WEBINAR REPORT

The ISTE Student Chapter [TN 217] and Department of Mechanical Engineering had jointly organized a webinar through online mode on “Materials and its Applications” on 12.10.2020 at 11.15 a.m. to 12.15 p.m. Welcome address was given by Dr.T.Pushparaj, HoD, Department of Mechanical Engineering, Kings College of Engineering.

Resource person Dr. M.Meignanamoorthy, Assistant Professor, Department of Mechanical Engineering, K.Ramakrishnan College of Engineering(Autonomous), Trichy, was introduced by Mrs.T. Gnanajeya, ISTE Chapter Coordinator, Kings College of Engineering. The resource person had given the lecture on “Materials and its Applications”. In his lecture, he explained the various materials and its applications currently used in Industrial and research areas. This session clearly focused on current Industrial trends, latest coating technology and innovations.

In this webinar, 63 participants from various institutions attended the webinar (Among these, 56 participants from our Institution as well as others have attended the webinar). Vote of thanks was given by Mr. M. Sakthivel, AP/Mechanical. Kings College of Engineering.

All the attended participants gave their feedback after the session and E-certificate have been sent to them through email.

Cube Game Report

The ISTE Student Chapter, Kings College of Engineering, Organized a competition on Cube Game on 21.08.2019 between 3.00pm – 3.45pm at CAD/CAM Lab for the ISTE student members of Mechanical Department. 12 students were actively participated in this competition. ### About the Event

The Irregular IQ Cube is a break-through of the traditional IQ game! We could change to this new brain training cube. Solving the cube is made piece by piece, just like any other puzzle. If we solve the Rubik's cube then we're at least fairly smart. However, there are plenty of really smart people that can't solve the cube on their own (or even with help). It's just one type of smartness and it also requires secondary skills such as patience and perseverance.
